

December 21, 2018

Dear Valued Dealer and Customer,

Mass-production of the 2018 New D-ILA Projector Line

Further to my letter dated 27th November detailing the introduction of our new D-ILA projectors, we are delighted to announce we are moving forward with mass-production operations.

Thanks to the innovation of our engineering team, we have matters in hand related to the original delay, maintaining the high quality, performance and reputation expected from JVC D-ILA projectors.

Of course, to ensure the delivery of the best home theater projectors in the world, it will take time to fully catch up with the initial global demand that we continue to receive for these outstanding products. We trust that you will bear with us while we work as rapidly as we can to achieve this.

As stated previously, JVCKENWOOD has always put quality and performance above all else and is committed to delivering superior products to our customers, and we thank you for your continued support and loyalty.

Sincerely,

Kazuyoshi Hayashi

Executive Officer, Media Service Sector

General Executive of Media Business Division